

SCREEN KEEPER

A new security benefit for all working environments.

Locks your screen automatically when you're away from your PC

Load the ScreenKeeper software onto your PC, insert the USB dongle and wear the activation tag around your neck. Choose a standalone tag or one built in to a standard size ID cardholder.

When you move away from your desk the signal between the tag and the lanyard is lost and the screen locks. The signal resumes when you return and your computer sparks back into life.

You don't even have to think about it. No need to log off each time you take a break, ScreenKeeper does it for you. It's simple and secure.
